State Temperance Convention.

DENVER, October 24.—The State Temperance convention met at 11 o'clock this morning and was called to order by Rev. C. H. St. John. The committee on permanent organization reported as follows:

For president, Rev. C. H. St. John.

For vice presidents, W. H. Fowler, Dr. Bliss, and W. W. Likens.

Secretary, Mrs. W. G. Sprague.

Assistant secretary, C. E. Allen.

Committee on order of business, Messrs. Westervelt, North, Bliss, Fowler and Sprague.

Messrs. Behymer and Myers were appointed a committee to arrange for public meetings in the evenings during the convention. Messrs. Cozens, H. L. Beardsley, J. L. Ferguson, Dr. Bliss and Mrs. Gray-Pitman were appointed a committee on resolutions.

The committee on order of business reported that the subject to be discussed this morning would be, "Why Are We Here?" to be opened by Dr. Bliss.

The rest of the morning was devoted to five-minute talks on the temperance question. Dr. Bliss addressed the convention in a twenty minutes' speech, during which he said:

"In the fifties we talked against slavery, but the old parties always promised everything and did nothing; but at last we voted and slavery fell. We must do the same now. The parties now promise but we cannot trust them; we must go to the polls for relief. There will be blood spilt in rivers before the reform is finally successful; the rum power is much richer and more unscrupulous than the old slave party ever was. We should put a temperance organization and a vice president in every county in the state. The republican party in Ohio was beaten because it did not adopt the prohibition platform."

Mr. Fowler, of Cañon City, then spoke and pledged the rest of his life to the temperance cause. W. G. Sprague said that candidates on both tickets in this county had been to him to get the temperance people to endorse them, but none of them wanted any one to know of it. Mr. Sprague spoke for about five minutes and was frequently interrupted by applause.

Judge McNeely was then called upon. He said that he came here to work and not to talk. For twenty years he had been in the ranks on the other side, but he had deserted and enlisted in the cause of temperance. He was not a lover of war; he was for peace if he had to fight for it. Our mission is not to fight, it is to lift up the fallen.

The programme this afternoon was as follows: 2.00 to 2.30, prayer led by Rev. J. H. Beardsley; 2.30 to 3.30, practical temperance work in the state, Judge McNeely; 3.30 to 4.30, difficulties and hindrances, Mr. Behymer; 4.30 to 5.00, miscellaneous business.

Pueblo Races.

PUEBLO, Col., October 24.—The fall meeting of the Pueblo jockey club commenced today. The weather was splendid and the track was in fine condition. There was a large attendance of horsemen from Denver, Leadville, Colorado Springs and other points in the state and a big turn out of people to see the races.

The first race on the programme was the 2.50 trot. Spotswood, Gray Bill and Belle were entered and four heats trotted as follows: Spotswood took two heats, and Gray Bill and Belle one each. Darkness coming on the race was postponed until two o'clock tomorrow for finish. Best time 2.48.

In the running race, mile and repeat, Gill, Mary S. and Brown Dick contested. Gill won the second and third heats and race; Mary S. second, Brown Dick third. Time 2.00, 1.47 and 1.50.

Tandy and Brown Dick are entered for tomorrow's races and some fine sport is promised in the trotting ring.

Uxoricide.

DENVER, October 24.—O. J. Haller, who shot and killed his wife last night in a fit of jealousy and seriously wounded Samuel Morris, whom he charges with being his wife's paramour, was to-day brought before the coroner's jury, which rendered a verdict of murder. Morris, who last night was thought to have received a death wound, is resting quietly to-night. His physicians say he will recover.

Cut Rates Abolished.

DENVER, October 24.—The Denver & New Orleans to-day announce a $2.50 rate to Pueblo from Denver and $2.00 to Colorado Springs. The Rio Grande people are yet to be heard from, but no doubt will follow suit.

Murder and Suicide.

PITTSBURG, October 24.—A Newcomerstown, Ohio, special says: There is great excitement in town. A farmer has just arrived bringing the news of a terrible crime committed about ten miles northeast of this place. All that is known at present is that Albert Frazer had murdered his wife and three children and then terminated the fearful tragedy by putting an end to his own miserable existence. Many people have left for the scene of the crime.

Frazer resided in Freyler's Creek valley and was last seen Sunday evening when he was very despondent because the doctor had advised him to quit work on account of ill health. He seemed much worried about his family. Last night a neighbor named Rusbaum visited his house and found the doors locked and curtains down. After summoning neighbors the door was forced open, when a terrible sight met their gaze. In a bed in the corner of the room lay Mrs. Frazer with her throat cut from ear to ear, while by her side was the youngest child cold in death with its head mashed. In a little crib on the east side of the room lay the two oldest children with their heads crushed in, and near the north window in the room lay Mr. Frazer with the side of his face torn off by the discharge of a gun. The mother and child on the bed were lying as if asleep, both being covered up with quilts.

It is supposed that brooding over his ill health and inability to work deranged Frazer's mind, and that while his wife and children were sleeping he murdered them and then killed himself, as there was no evidence in the room of a scuffle. The manner in which the murderous father killed himself is certainly diabolical. By his side was an empty gun barrel with no hammer or stock. He must have loaded the barrel and held one end in the flame of a lamp that stood near by and the other end to his face, and held it till it exploded from heat and blew his brains out.

The Markets.

NEW YORK, October 24. Governments strong; railways firmer; states dull.

The squeeze of shorts begun last week made further progress to-day. Stocks opened strong, ½ to 1½ higher. About 11 o'clock declined ¼ to 1⅛, then an upward movement gained force and in the last hour intense excitement prevailed owing to efforts of some bears to cover. Closed buoyant at best figures of the day, advance extending to 8 per cent. Transactions 638,000.

Mining stocks very dull. Horn Silver sold 6.03 and 6.50; Standard Consolidated 6.00; Mexican 3.30; Iron Silver 3.00; Sierra Nevada 3.65; Chief 59 and 61, Consolidated Virginia 51 and 50. Sales of the day 10,950 shares.

Important Decision.

DES MOINES, October 24.—In the circuit court United States Judge McCrary rendered a decision upon the question of the right of a state to regulate interstate commerce. The case arose out of a suit against the Illinois Central Railroad company to recover damages for over charges upon freight shipped over the company's road from points in Iowa to points in Wisconsin, and originated under the tariff law of 1874, now repealed. Judge McCrary held that the action in question, if applied to through shipments, related to the subject in its nature, and that if the power of a state to pass such act were conceded it would necessarily include the power to discriminate against the commerce of other states. For these reasons such statute would be in violation of the federal constitution and it is not within the power of one state upon interstate line to fix the rates to be paid for carriage within its territory, for that would in effect give it power to demand more than its share of the reasonable charge for the entire distance. It would be giving to the statutes of such state extra territorial force.

Exciting Game of Billiards.

CHICAGO, October 24. A game for cushion carom championship and five hundred dollars a side was played to-night between Sexton and Slosson. Attendance 1,500. Games for greater part were slow and tedious. Slosson took the lead at the start and kept it to the end. In the 130th inning Sexton put on a plucky run of 80 and was within reaching distance. Slosson was visibly unnerved and Sexton got another chance. He ended at 13 a run which promised to give him the game. Slosson in the 141st inning made the two points necessary. Score, Sexton 438, highest run 30, average 3 and 60-141; Slosson, score, 500, highest run 38, average 3 and 77-141.

Dissatisfied Switchmen.

KANSAS CITY, October 24.—A committee representing a portion of the railroad switchmen have presented a request for an advance of wages to Chicago prices, and give officials until to-morrow noon to decide. Officials say they will not grant it.

LATER. Another meeting of switchmen was held to-night. A committee man asserts a large majority have agreed to go out to-morrow unless the railroads grant an advance. He further states that delegates in the interest of the strike are here from St. Louis, Omaha, St. Joseph and Leavenworth.

Baltimore Election.

BALTIMORE, October 24.—The election of mayor and city council brought out the largest vote ever polled in the city at a municipal election. Two tickets are in the field, regular democratic headed by General F. C. Latrobe for mayor, and citizens' or fusion ticket, headed by J. Monroe Heiskell, reform democrat. The latter was nominated by a committee of gentlemen styling themselves reform democrats and subsequently endorsed by the republican city convention. Total vote for mayor, 54,754; Latrobe 29,147, Heiskell 25,607.

The Chiricahuas.

WASHINGTON, October 24.—A telegram was received at the war department to-day from General Crook confirming the report that the Chiricahuas Indians left in Mexico are making their way to San Carlos.

In Cincinnati the Foreign Christian Missionary society of the disciples of Christ was called to order at 2 p.m. by Rev. Isaac Errett, editor of the Christian Standard and chairman. The report of the executive committee included news from missions in Turkey, Denmark, France, England, India, Japan and the Isthmus of Panama. Receipts during the year, $32,000.

GENERAL NEWS.

Interesting Report of Asst. Hatton on Postoffice Affairs.

A Melange of Murders Miseries Multiplied.

Dishonest Claim Attorneys Debarred From Practicing.

Report of First Assistant Hatton to the Postmaster General.

WASHINGTON, October 24.—The annual report of Frank Hatton, first assistant postmaster general, has been laid before the postmaster general, and is a most interesting document. It is not possible to do it justice in a brief synopsis, so the more important points of the report are given quite fully. The report says:

The average amount of work performed in each of the divisions of the office exceeded that of any previous year, and the bureau has, so far as the appropriation would permit, endeavored to meet the necessities of an increasing population, assist in activity commercial circles, and keep pace with the construction and extension of various railroads and other means of communication. It is believed that in no preceding year have fewer complaints been made concerning incompetency or dishonesty of postmasters, or delay or confusion in the delivery and dispatch of mail matter in the different postoffices. The whole number of postoffices on June 30, 1883, was 47,863, an increase of 1,632 during the year. Apportioned by sections, the increase in the New England states was 36, middle states 233, southern states and Indian Territory 725, states and territories west and northwest 580, and the Pacific slope 68. Pennsylvania had the largest number of postoffices, 3,716. New York followed with 3,002, and Ohio third with 2,620. The largest increase in the number of postoffices in any state was in Dakota, the number being 192. In Connecticut there was a decrease of 1. Lancaster county, Pa., had 158 postoffices, the largest number in any county in the United States.

The whole number of presidential offices was 2,143. The greatest increase was in Illinois. The number of money order offices was 5,857, an increase of 421. Removals and suspensions during the year were 316 less than for the year before, an indication undoubtedly of improvement in the character and habits of the persons now serving the public as postmasters.

During the year 10,795 letters were written to postmasters and private individuals, involving decisions under the postal regulations and laws, and $2,000 was collected from publishers of second-class matter for violation of law in inclosing third-class matter in second-class publications. The publishers of legitimate newspapers are specially interested in sustaining the department in its efforts, through this division of postal laws and regulations, to exclude from the pound rate all publications designed primarily for advertising purposes, or for free circulation, or for circulation at nominal rates. The enforcement of that law will enable legitimate publications (favored by statute as instruments of popular education) to sustain themselves by occuring such local advertising support as would naturally come to them.

The adjustment of the salaries of presidential postmasters is now far enough advanced to warrant the statement that the result will be satisfactory, and for the first time in the history of the department the salaries of presidential postmasters will be equalized and placed upon the basis of the gross receipts of their offices.

The total expenditure on account of postoffice supplies was $111,937, leaving a small unexpended balance. Allowance made by the salary and allowance division during the year for clerk hire, rent, furniture, salaries of postmasters of various grades, etc., was about $2,500,000. In order to meet urgent demands of the service for clerks in the postoffices, and at the same time to keep within the limited appropriation, it was necessary to create a fund by making a reduction in the salaries of those clerks in 195 offices. One-quarter of the fund so created was used to give relief at points where additional clerks were absolutely needed to work off accumulated and delayed mails and prevent further complications. This expedient was somewhat in the nature of "heroic treatment," and it is hoped occasion will not again occur.

Congress should make ample provision for this service. As a rule, these clerks are underpaid, especially at separating offices, where mails are separated for other offices, postmasters are in many cases compelled to employ clerks at their own expense, which is wrong. That should be remedied.

It is the duty of the government to furnish roomy and well arranged offices for the transaction of postal business. Such a policy will increase the revenues of the department, and citizens in the communities directly benefited will take pride in furthering the interests of the service. Tables of receipts at nineteen offices where new leases and improvements have been made, show the wisdom of this policy in largely increased receipts. There is no good reason why the government should not provide for paying office rent at postoffices of the third class as well as at offices of the first and second class.

With favorable surroundings, such as may be expected, the adjustment of salaries of presidential postmasters for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1885, will involve in round numbers not less than $1,000,000.

Beyond the benefits of the free delivery service, as at present restricted, is the class of towns in densely populated portions of the country which it is believed could be served by carriers with benefit to the people and economy to the department. These are towns within short distances of one another, which have not singly the required qualifications of population or gross revenue. The law should be amended so as to authorize the department to extend the system to such places by establishing a principal or central office of the group, and discontinuing the other offices or substituting for them inexpensive branches of the mail office, from which carriers could serve the surrounding localities.

In view of the large excess of postage on local matter over the cost of the free delivery service, and taking into consideration the fact that local correspondence increases in proportion to the facilities offered, it should be extended, and liberal appropriations made to bring it up to the highest practicable standard in cities where it is now in operation. This service meets the general demands of business and social life, but fails to meet the dispatch required in the delivery of letters of exceptional importance. Under the present system, letters received after the carriers go out upon their trips, whatever their importance, must lie in the office until the next trip. At 6 o'clock p. m., when the delivery closes for the day, they must lie over till next morning, and thus delay frequently fails to meet the object of the communication.

Out of the want of more speedy delivery have grown up in several large cities private enterprises which are now conducted in competition with this service, and are diverting from the legitimate revenues of the department thousands of dollars yearly. The patronage bestowed upon them evinces the public demand for more speedy delivery of a certain class of correspondence.

To meet this want it is suggested that a special stamp be provided, which when affixed to a letter, whether mail or local, in addition to an ordinary postage stamp, shall be regarded by the office addressed as entitling the letter to immediate delivery up to 10 p. m. To provide for their delivery it is suggested that boys be employed, and required to procure receipts from the party addressed, or some authorized person.

In view of the excess of receipts of postage on local matter alone over the cost of its delivery ($1,021,894), it seems the time has arrived when the postage on local letters at offices where the carrier system is in operation can be reduced from two cents to one cent. Such a reduction will surely result in a very large increase of local business. The reports of the inspectors who investigated the unlawful dispatch companies show that their department is losing thousands of dollars annually by their competition. They offer no better facilities than the department and the only thing gained by their patrons is one cent on a letter. A reduction of local postage would result in a very great increase in the business, as well as meet the demands of cities now served by carriers.

The endeavor to "divorce" money order work from other business, as contemplated by congress, is causing much trouble all over the country, and great annoyance to this office. The law should be amended so as to provide that annual allowance for clerk hire should cover the entire cost of the labor required at any and all points. The present system, making allowances for expenses at offices of the first and second classes, is not practical nor just, and should be changed so as to base the allowances upon the gross receipts and revenues returned.

In concluding the report Mr. Hatton pays a high compliment to the heads of the divisions under his charge.

Double Murder.

CLINTON FALLS, Ind., October 24.—Last night two strangers called for supper at the farm house of Jas. Crawford, an aged man living alone with his wife near here. While she was preparing it one struck her down with a club and at the same time his companion knocked Mr. Crawford down—the same way. They then stole $150 and left the aged people dead as they supposed. Mr. Crawford recovered consciousness and gave the alarm. The latest from the victims is that both will die.

A later dispatch from Green Castle gives the following account of the affair: James D. Crawford, a farmer living ten miles from the city, was assaulted by a man who after eating supper struck Crawford with knuckles, felling him to the floor. Crawford was getting the best of the villain when an accomplice burst open the door and covered Crawford with a revolver. Mrs. Crawford came to her husband's rescue with a fire shovel, when the assassin turned his attention to her, beating her almost to death. They then ransacked the house of all valuables and left Mr. and Mrs. Crawford for dead. Crawford, however, rallied and gave the alarm. Citizens are scouring the woods in all directions and it is thought the villains will be caught to-night. The injuries inflicted are thought to be fatal.

Pension Agents Suspended.

WASHINGTON, October 24.—The secretary of the interior, upon recommendation of the commissioner of pensions, to-day suspended John M. Rou and Frank N. English, Washington, and Frank T. McDonald, Baltimore, from practice before the interior department as pension attorneys. The secretary also debarred from practice E. H. Taylor, Vassar, Mich., and Geo. W. Johns, Washington. Taylor was convicted of taking illegal fees as pension attorney, and Johns was debarred upon evidence brought out during his recent trial for using penalty envelopes. It is alleged Rou and English published a false advertisement, calculated to mislead pensioners, and that McDonald extorted fees illegally.

Cost of Mail Service.

WASHINGTON, October 24.—The annual report of the second assistant postmaster general shows the total cost of transportation by all methods $10,234,890. Increase over preceding year, $355,845; increase in railroad service, $1,084,616; in steamboat service, $3,362. Decrease in cost of star route service, $814,371. Estimated cost of the latter service next year, $50,000,000. Estimate for railroad service next year, $13,785,216.

All Three Drowned.

WINNIPEG, Minn., October 24.—Three children named Ingus, the oldest a girl of twelve years, were drowned in a pond at Elk Horn, Manitoba. The girl was on the pond skating when the ice broke. Her two younger brothers tried to save her, but all perished before the eyes of their mother on the bank.

Heavy Gale.

PLYMOUTH, Mass., October 24.—The heaviest northeast gale for several years has been raging since last night. The sloop Samoset and a yacht parted cables in the inner harbor and went ashore. The fog is so thick nothing can be seen below.

Killed by His Aunt.

MORRISVILLE, Mo., October 24.—L. L. Daring of Oliver was killed by his aunt, Mrs. Wm. Straub, yesterday. She struck him on the head with a hammer. The woman has been jailed.

Ross vs. Conley.

PITTSBURG, October 24.—Wallace Ross has accepted Conley's challenge for a three-mile race, $1,000 a side. The race will be rowed four weeks from the signing of the articles.

The Country's Currency.

WASHINGTON, October 24.—The director of the mint has prepared a statement showing the amount of specie and paper circulation of the United States in the treasury, and in the banks and in general circulation on October 1st. The conclusion from these tables is that on the basis of the last national bank statement, published some time in July, there was an actual net increase of money of all kinds in the hands of the people on October 1st, last, of $19,115,635, as compared with a similar statement made of October 1st, 1882. It is to be considered that the effects upon the national bank circulation of the calls of 3 per cent. bonds were not seen in the bank statement of July last. The calls had not then begun to operate.

The comptroller of the currency has demanded another statement of the condition of the national banks, which will show the amount of contraction in national bank currency, and make an exact statement possible as to whether or not, during the year, there will have been any actual net contraction of the currency.

The comptroller's preliminary figures, which doubtless are to be practically taken as his final figures of the contraction of the banking currency, resulting from the two calls of three-per-cents, which mature December 1 and December 15, are $4,500,000 for the first call, and $8,000,000 for the second call. On this basis there will be a total national bank contraction on December 15, not included in the tables of Mr. Burchard, of $12,000,000. This, on the basis of the figures, would still leave an actual net increase on the total circulation for the twelve months of about $7,000,000. This result is quite different from the opinion that will be gathered from the mere consideration of the contraction of national bank currency alone, caused, by the calls of three per-cents.

Mr. Burchard gives the following table, showing the specie and paper money in the treasury, in the banks and in general circulation, on October 1. Assuming that the amount and character of circulation of the national banks were the same on October 1 as in July, Mr. Burchard finds that there were in the hands of the people on that date $1,070,364,021, which is a net increase of $19,115,635 over the same date last year. The increase and decrease in the circulation, as compared with last year, is as follows:

Increase of gold coin, $6,030,469; silver dollars, 4,982,296; fractional silver, $1,273,870; gold certificates, $21,910,210; silver certificates, $14,403,651.

Decrease: U. S. notes, $15,705,203; national bank notes, $14,527,061; fractional currency, $92,597.

The following are the tables:

Specie and paper circulation of the United States, October 1, 1883:

| DESCRIPTION. | In the Treasury | In Banks and General Circulation. | Total |
|---|---|---|---|
| Gold bullion | $61,053,816 | $ | $ 61,053,816 |

Assuming that the amount and character of the circulation in the National banks was the same on the 1st of October as in July last, the United States circulation held by the public and banks, other than national, shows the following changes:

Society of the Army of the Cumberland.

CINCINNATI, October 24.—The Society of the Army of the Cumberland formed this morning and marched to the Grand opera house where they held a business session. The society was led by its president, General Sheridan, with General Rosecrans on his right. Sheridan called the society to order. Reports of committees were heard and after the appointment of new committees and acceptance of invitations from the chamber of commerce, Currier, Duksworth, and Lincoln clubs, the society adjourned.

Governor Chas. Foster delivered the address of welcome. His mention of Rosecrans, Sheridan, Logan, Pope, Hazen, Wood and others on the stage brought out rounds of applause. General Sheridan made a brief response, returning thanks to Governor Foster, and introduced the orator of the society, General Smith D. Atkins, of Freeport, Ills. His address commanded close attention and was often applauded. Captain Millard, with the help of the Apollo club, sang a song composed by himself for this occasion. In response to calls General Rosecrans made a few remarks favoring reunions, saying unless soldiers stuck together the wise provision of the statutes giving preference to soldiers in public service was in danger of being forgotten. He regarded also encouragement of devotion to country ample reason for keeping alive the interest in the great deeds accomplished by the volunteer army during the war. General John A. Logan was also called out. He said he was not a member of the Army of the Cumberland but felt like he was part of it, owing to the close relationship between the army of the Tennessee and Cumberland on many trying times. He commended the plan of this society permitting all soldiers to become members, and closed with a warm eulogy of General Steadman. General Hazen also made a few remarks. The society marched back to the Burnet house under escort of the military, where members enjoyed what they termed symposium.

Ways that are Dark.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 24.—Additional instances of frauds perpetrated by the Chinese government officials to evade the restriction act have been brought to light to-day. The steamer Rio Janeiro, which arrived on the 12th, brought seventy-seven Chinamen holding traders' certificates issued to them by the Chinese government, which under the treaty entitled them to land in the United States. In a majority of cases it was evident the holders of these certificates were nothing but common laborers, but the customs inspectors said they were bound to recognize government certificates. With the exception of five all came ashore. The City of Tokio, which arrived yesterday, brought 111 more Chinese all holding similar Chinese government traders' certificates. They were questioned as to their occupation before being landed, but so long as they stick to the assertion that they are traders the authorities have no help for it but to let them land. By their answers it is apparent most of them have been coached as to what they must reply. Occasionally, as in the case of some actors to-day, they let slip something which condemns them. Among to-day's arrivals are boys 8 years of age holding students' certificates. They could not remember the name of the college they purposed attending. More women, claimed by resident Chinese as their wives, are also among arrivals.

No Examination for Promotions.

WASHINGTON, October 24.—It is clear that the civil service commission has decided to not at present apply the policy of competitive examination to promotions. Two of the commissioners, Eaton and Thoman, have pronounced against this. Dr. Gregory is said to have been at first inclined to favor the competitive principle, but he may have changed his views. At all events he is in the minority. If he still adheres to that policy, the result of the long interview between the commissioners and the president yesterday, about which so much mystery is made, was that there should be no present attempt to apply the competitive principle to promotion. How promotions are to be made is not clear, but it is evident that large discretion is to be given to the heads of departments. The civil service commission has several perplexing problems as to admission to the service still unsolved. These relate to the grade at which the examination shall begin to operate. It is still unsettled whether the admissions shall begin at the $720, the $900 or the $1,000 grade, and whether there shall be one or two examinations.

ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH AND PUBLIC SCHOOLS

To the Editor of the GAZETTE

Allow me to say that the writer of the editorial regarding the pastoral of the late Catholic council in New York, either never read that pastoral or else deliberately misrepresented its tenor since in it the prelates of a great denomination " make no mention of public schools much less urge, as the editorial states ' their people to oppose the public school system "

The correctness of the writer's estimate of our public school system as "a most vital part of our institutions," I care not to dispute here, as it has been already clearly disproved by writers of eminence who are far from friendly to the Catholic church

Passing over the unfounded statements that if the idea of Catholic schools is carried out, it means that the Irish children of this country shall be educated by themselves,' and that the Catholic schools in this country intended for the education of the poor are very much below the standard of our public schools," (the editor was evidently never in a Catholic school), by what process of reasoning can it be shown that "the state will give a better education than the church'" as the editorial asserts It may, perhaps, surprise the clever wise editor to hear that wherever church schools have come into competition with state schools the former have invariably borne off the palm Yet such is the fact, as the examinations for university honors in England France and Germany prove

The state calumny, disproved by statistics about the ignorance of "distinctively Roman Catholic countries,' like other calumnies occasionally flung at the Catholic church by the GAZETTE have been too often refuted to be worthy of notice here

If the idea of the GAZETTE writer that ' the best remedy is for the state to require that every child between the age of five and twelve shall attend the public schools," be the result of the public school system, then the sooner that system is wiped out the better, implying as it does the Platonic and communistic theory, that the child belongs not to its parents but to the state. P F B

The above letter opens a wide range of discussion The reverend writer abounds in assertion, if not in fact or statistics The first assertion is that the writer of the editorial was either ignorant of the contents of the pastoral letter, or deliberately misrepresented its tenor "He states that the pastoral letter makes no mention of public schools, much less urges Roman Catholics to oppose the public school system The denial is extraordinary We cannot suppose that the reverend writer is quibbling because the expression "public schools" was not used, when a half a dozen expressions were used to describe what we understand by public schools The prominent journals all over the country understand the address as we do The New York Herald, speaking of a single sentence in the address, says "That is to say that there can be no Catholic compromise with the free schools as they stand "

Harper's Weekly of October 29th, commenting on the address, said, ' It asserts the necessity of Christian schools and maintains the injustice of a compulsory support of those which are not Christian By Christian the letter means Roman Catholic and by godless schools it means schools in which Roman Catholicism is not taught Its argument is that instead of a system of public schools supported at public expense, * * * the whole business of secular instruction should be left to religious sects If there is misrepresentation it is very general But a fairer way is to look at the address itself In one place the address contained the following

The Catholic school sows the good seed in the hearts of your children * * Until such time as a sense of justice will force our fellow citizens to admit the fairness of our claims and realize the injustice of taxing us for schools to which we cannot conscientiously send our children unless in cases of extreme necessity, we shall be obliged to build our own schools even out of our scanty resources Be zealous then, dear brethren, in establishing such schools "

There ought to be no question about the meaning of this The schools for which they are taxed and to which we cannot conscientiously send our children' are the public schools In this extract the pastoral letter says a good many things that are against our public schools

First That it is unjust to tax Roman Catholics to be compelled to support the public schools This is un American, for we think in this country it is the fairest tax is [illegible] and should be paid by all

Second [illegible] the no Roman Catholic can conscientiously send our public schools unless in cases of extreme necessity We think this teaching is un American because it is trying to force a large part of our population to participate in the government [illegible] this free land has mutually [illegible] its inhabitants

Third, It urges the Roman Catholics to be zealous in building up opposition system [illegible] with our public school system [illegible] be changed to sectarian schools

This pastoral letter enjoins the above again and again The public schools are sometimes called "godless schools," and schools without religion Christian schools are Roman Catholic schools where religion is taught The Roman Catholics are urged to stay away from public schools in the following emphatic manner

" It becomes your imperative duty to send them to Christian schools ' * * and it has been clearly decided by their superior power that no Catholic of whatever rank or condition he may be can approve of any system of public instruction from which religion is totally excluded "

The cardinal even speaks of the crime of sending your children to godless schools In another place he speaks of them as tending to atheism, etc We presume no other quotations will be necessary to show that all we said on Tuesday, and a good deal more left unsaid, was warranted by the pastoral letter We trust that our correspondent, who speaks authoritatively for his church will himself read the letter If he does not find public schools mentioned, he will find other terms that more accurately give the conception of the cardinal and that mean public school

It is a matter of regret that the correspondent does not give some authority for his assertions in the remainder of his letter He does not condescend to notice our estimate of our public schools because they are already clearly disapproved of by writers of eminence We presume then from this that the representative of the Roman Catholic church in this city disapproves of our public schools

The writer speaks of the "state calumny " which is disposed of by statistics, about ignorance in Catholic countries It is a matter of regret that the statistics were not produced We may be mistaken The only statistics we have at hand are those given in the report of the commissioner of education Italy is a Roman Catholic country from which we have many immigrants According to the census of 1861 the percentage of the population illiterate was 78 per cent, and by the census of 1871 there was 4 per cent illiterate In Protestant Germany the percentage of illiteracy among recruits for the army was from 0 47 to 3 [illegible] In Austria, or what might be called Catholic Germany 31 per cent of the recruits to the army were illiterate In the other countries the statistics of illiteracy are incomplete We presume that the above are, however, sufficient to show that there was no calumny

There are other points at issue but as nothing but assertions are given it is not necessary to waste words over them We simply add that what we had to say about church schools had special reference to the education of the masses and not to the higher education for the priesthood or for the rich Catholics

We regret that the writer should say like "other calumnies occasionally flung at the Catholic church by the GAZETTE have been too often refuted to be worthy of notice here This is untrue The GAZETTE has always been friendly to every religious denomination and specially to the Catholics as was shown by our indorsement a few days ago of the bishop's circular letter in regard to the House of the Good Shepherd But when the Catholic church or any other organization attacks an American institution we shall not hold our peace The only other criticism we remembered to have made was on churches attempting to raise money by lotteries, raffles and other species of gambling The press usually disapproves of this in the low dives, and ought not to overlook church fairs We believe the writer of the above viewed the criticisms as an attack on his church They were an attack on the practices of any church that attempts to raise funds by immoral practices

The most disgraceful campaign ever waged by anyone is being carried on by Butler in Massachusetts He goes from place to place and tells his lies and then tells his hearers not to believe the newspapers they read because they lie about him He made a great deal of capital last year by his criticism of the republicans for passing the $18 000,000 harbor and river bill over the president's veto The republican candidate for governor was one of two Massachusetts representatives who voted against it Down on Cape Cod, where some of the money was spent, he accused Mr Robinson of voting against that bill and condemned him strongly for it Such inconsistency is everywhere apparent on the stump He is in many ways the most audacious falsifier in political life

Ladies of Seville at a Bull-Fight

Charles Dudley Warner's humorous account in the November Century of a fashionable bull fight at Seville (illustrated by Blum) describes the ladies in attendance as follows

The ladies of Spain except in some remote towns in the mountain regions have laid aside the national costume, and dress according to the dictates of Paris, preferring even the French fans to their own decorated with the incidents of the bull fight and the serenade In Seville the black lace mantilla is still worn at church, and to some extent on the street but the hat is the cover of the new fashion, mores the pity, and the high combs have gone altogether I do not know why a woman, even a plain woman, should be so utterly fascinating in a mantilla thrown over a high comb and falling gracefully over the shoulders stepping daintily in high heeled shoes with pointed toes and moving her large fan with just that nonchalant air so accurately calculated to wound but not to kill In the whole assembly I saw only one or two national costumes the mantilla and the high comb, with the short petticoat, brilliant in color Nothing could be more becoming, and it makes one doubt whether woman's strongest desire is to please and whether it is not rather to follow the fashion when we see a whole nation abandon such a charming attire

But the white mantilla is de rigueur for a bull fight and every lady wears it on I was a little cold to [illegible] ladies in the open light of a brilliant, Andalusian day, and in the gaze of the public, in full (as it is called) costume of the ball room, but the crudity of the man has softened somewhat the too brilliant display, and threw over the whole the harmony of subdued splendor What superb Spanish lace, broadcloth, with a silken luster, falling in lovely folds that show its generous and exquisitely wrought figures, each leaf and stem and flower the creation of dainty fingers! Such work as this, of such a tone and finish as these large mantillas, sweeping from the head to the train is scarcely to be found in the [illegible] days. They were heirlooms, great grandmothers' [illegible], yellowing and growing rich in locked chests, worn only on state occasions, and now brought forth to make a bull's holiday

We spent a good deal of the waiting time in scrutinizing the [illegible] for beautiful women and I am sorry to say with hardly a reward adequate to our anxiety I am not sure how much the beauty of the women of Seville is traditional They have good points Graceful figures are not uncommon, and fine teeth and dark, liquid, large eyes, which they use perpetually in oeillades destructive to peace and security And the fan, the most deadly weapon of coquetry, gives the coup de grace to those whom the eyes have wounded But the Seville women have usually sallow, pasty, dead complexions Perhaps the beauty of the same is destroyed by cosmetics, for there was not a lady at the bull fight who was not highly rouged and powdered This gave an artificiality to their appearance Great beauty of feature was very rare, and still rarer was that animation, that stamp of individual character loveliness in the play of expression, and sprightliness, that charm in any assembly of American women No, the handsome women in the ring were not numerous enough to make any impression on the general mass and yet the total effect with the blonde lace the artificial color the rich toilet, and the agitation of fans, was charming

A Feathered Shepherd

St Nicholas for November

In South America there is a very beautiful bird called the agami or the golden breasted trumpeter It is about as large in the body as one of our common barn yard fowl, but as it has longer legs and a longer neck it seems much larger Its general color is black, but the plumage on the breast is beautiful beyond description, being what might be called iridescent, changing, as it continually does from a steel blue to a red gold and glittering with a metallic luster

In its wild state the agami is not peculiar for anything but its beauty, its extraordinary cry, which has given it the name of trumpeter, and for an odd habit of leaping with comical antics into the air apparently for its own amusement When tamed however—and it soon learns to abandon its wild ways—it usually conceives a violent attachment for its master and, though very jealous of his affection endeavors to please him by a solicitude for the well being of all that belongs to him, which may fairly be termed benevolence

It is never shut up at night as the other fowl are, but, with a well deserved liberty, is permitted to take up its quarters where it pleases In the morning it drives the ducks to the water and the chickens to their feeding ground and if any should presume to wander they are quickly brought to a sense of duty by a sharp reminder from the strong beak of the vigilant agami At night the faithful guardian drives its charge home again

Sometimes it is given the care of a flock of sheep, and, though it may seem too puny for such a task, it is in fact quite equal to it The misguided sheep that tries to trifle with the agami soon has cause to repent the experiment for, with a swiftness unrivaled by any dog the feathered shepherd darts after the runaway, and with wings and beak drives it back to its place not forgetting to impress upon the offender a sense of its error by pecks with its beak

Should a dog take advantage of the seemingly unguarded condition of the sheep and approach them with evil design, the agami makes no hesitation about rushing at him and giving combat And it must be a good dog that will overcome the brave bird Indeed most dogs are so awed by the fierce onset of the agami accompanied by its strange cries, that they incontinently turn about and run, fortunate if they escape unwounded from the indignant creature

At meal times it walks into the house and takes its position near its master, seeming to ask for his caresses It will not permit the presence of any other pet in the room, and even resents the intrusion of any servants not belonging there, driving out all others before it will be contented Like a well bred dog it does not clamor for food but waits with dignity until its wants have been satisfied.

Ellen Terry

The Manhattan for November

Ellen Terry is dowered with a fascinating, if not a perfect beauty of face and form She is above the medium height with an ideal Attic figure A well poised head, crowned with hair of burnished gold, bears a countenance which radiates a sweet and soulful intellectuality Her chin is too heavy to be conventionally beautiful, but her eyes light up the whole face and relieve it of any taint of severity An earnest, fervid animation glows in her serious moods, while a girlish archness invests her comedy with an entrancing witchery Her intelligence is unquestionable and her capacity for comprehending and expressing pathos is of a high order But there is a nervous unrest in her temperament which is often apparent, and she is wanting in the strength and repose of person to adequately portray tragic emotion She is best when she smiles There is a winsomeness in her laughing eyes, with their nervously knitted brows which would captivate the most iron hearted of old and wearied playgoers In her playful and fretful scenes as Juliet with her Nurse she gave touches of the most exquisite comedy, and these scenes were made doubly brilliant by Mrs Stirling, who portrayed the Nurse and raised the part to a prominence fully equal to that of either hero or heroine This chronicle would be incomplete and unjust did it not record a tribute to this excellent artiste, Miss Terry has unconsciously contracted some of Mr Irving's mannerisms and peculiarities. But her fresh, vigorous womanhood and her hearty naturalness have suffered no hurt Her powers and endowments are used with telling effect in the Lyceum representations, A grace of body born of an innate refinement of soul characterizes her every pose and gesture She is an adept in the art of draping the human form, and her carriage and management of a flowing robe or an enwrapping mantle are poetic in their grace and dignity Without being a great actress, she is a most pleasing one and her loveliness of person makes her doubly attractive as an artiste

MOFFAT-BUHL.

Their Marriage at the Presbyterian Church Last Night.

At 8 o'clock last night Mr. Addison Moffat and Miss Grace Buhl, both of Detroit, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the Presbyterian church, the ceremony being performed by Dr. Willis Lord. A large number of people witnessed the ceremony, including a number of the friends of the contracting parties from Detroit.

At exactly 8 o'clock the bride, leaning upon the arm of her father, Mr. F. Buhl, and the groom upon the arm of the bride's mother, passed up the aisle to the altar, preceded by the ushers, Mr. F. H. Sharpless and G. R. Buckman. The ceremony was brief and in accordance with the ritual of the Presbyterian church.

The bride was handsomely attired in white Ottoman silk, white Duchess lace waist with diamond ornaments and white roses, the groom wearing the customary full dress suit.

From the church the newly married couple were driven to The Antlers where a reception was held, the parlor, music room and bridal suite having been thrown open for the occasion. The invited guests to the number of forty assembled in the parlor, and after congratulations they retired to the music room where the wedding repast was served by Mr. Frank Clark, the head waiter of The Antlers, and a corps of efficient assistants. Among the guests who took seats at the tables the following were noticed by a GAZETTE representative: Miss Ford, Miss Moffat, Mr. McMillan, Miss McMillan and Mr. F Buhl and wife, all of Detroit, the home of the bride and groom; Mr. and Mrs. Riddle, Mr. E. Riddle, Mr. Matt Kennedy and wife, Dr. Ely, Mrs. Woolsey, H. Le B. Wills, Miss Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Rouse, Mrs. Green, Mr. and Mrs. Holmes, Dr. Lord, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Macklin, Mrs. Boas, the Misses Macklin, of Colorado Springs, and Prof. C. J. Harris and wife, of Denver.

The reception lasted from nine until ten immediately after which Mr. and Mrs. Moffat left on the Leadville express for Las Vegas, New Mexico.

A Telesmo dispatch says unless immediate relief is furnished hundreds of persons whose houses were wrecked by the earthquake will die from fever and exposure. Food not so much wanted as clothes, blankets and materials to build temporary shelter.

An explosion occurred yesterday in a room of the royal palace at Naples, in which repairs were being made. Two workmen were injured and the room set on fire. The flames were promptly quenched. Great excitement prevailed and crowds of people flocked to the piazza of the palace. The cause of the explosion is not explained.

The Freight War in Utah.

SALT LAKE, October 24.—The freight war continues, but the Union Pacific now charges fifty cents a hundred from the Missouri river, same as the Denver & Rio Grande. Merchants are availing themselves of the cut and ordering goods by telegraph. Merchants with large stocks fear the result, but think such a radical cut cannot last long. Clark, superintendent of the Union Pacific, goes to Denver to-morrow to consult with the D. & R. G. managers, and the general impression is that the old rates will be restored.

Contempt of Court.

ALBANY, October 24.—Frank A. Sherwin, on trial for criminal contempt of court, was found guilty. He is expected to apply for a stay when arraigned for sentence.

Five years established and never known to fail in a single case, acute or chronic. Refer to all prominent physicians and druggists for the standing of Salicylica.

THE SECRET:

THE ONLY DISSOLVER OF THE POISONOUS URIC ACID WHICH EXISTS IN THE BLOOD OF RHEUMATIC AND GOUTY PATIENTS.

SALICYLICA is known as a common-sense remedy, because it strikes directly at the cause of Rheumatism, Gout and Neuralgia, while so many so-called specifics and supposed panaceas only treat ocally the effects.

It has been conceded by eminent scientists that outward applications, such as rubbing with oils, ointments, liniments, and soothing lotions will not eradicate these diseases which are the result of the poisoning of the blood with Uric Acid.

SALICYLICA works with marvelous effect on this acid and so removes the disorder. It is now exclusively used by all celebrated physicians of America and Europe. Highest Medical Academy of Paris reports 95 per cent. cures in three days that SALICYLICA is a certain cure for RHEUMATISM, GOUT and NEURALGIA. The most intense pains are subdued almost instantly.

W. W. Williams, of the United States Navy, is at The Antlers.

Hon. J. S. Stanger, of Denver, registered at The Antlers yesterday.

The ladies of the Baptist church contemplate holding a literary and pie sociable, early next week.

Yesterday afternoon's train from the south on the Denver & Rio Grande was over two hours late.

There will be a change in time on the D. & N. O. to-day. The train will go south at 7.05 p. m., and north at 8.30 a. m.

Messrs. Pixley & Webster yesterday received a car load of wagons, which Mr. Pixley purchased while at the east.

President McKeen, of the Vandalia, with his family, returned from Manitou yesterday and left for the east on their special car, attached to the Kansas City express.

Among the callers at the GAZETTE office yesterday was Mr. W. Huber, representing James R. Ives & Co., of Denver, publishers of the Colorado State business directory.

On Saturday a young gentleman of this city was robbed of $80 while under the influence of liquor. No trace of either the money or the persons who obtained it has been found.

Mr. Douglas Ely, who will be remembered as the former superintendent of our waterworks, is in the city on a visit, and will probably remain two or three weeks. He is now a resident of Duluth, Minnesota, which section of the country he seems to prefer to Colorado.

The Association of Railway Conductors passed through the city about 10.30 yesterday morning in a special train of nine coaches. They went to Manitou where they were allowed an hour to look around and then proceeded on their journey to Leadville and Gunnison.

Miss May Strohm, of Los Angeles, and Miss May Briggs, of Denver, both formerly of Iowa, are guests of Mrs. S. B. Pickett for a few days. Miss Strohm is a sister-in-law of Mr. Jay Mathes, who with Mr. Chas. Baker first published the Colorado Mountaineer of this city.

It has been thought advisable by some to get up a petition among the citizens of Colorado Springs asking that Governor Grant and the county commissioners offer a reward for the apprehension and conviction of the murderers of Roenigk and Bagby. Would not the proposition be a good one?

The Ladies' society of the Congregational church will give their regular monthly social at the church this evening. Supper will be served from 6 o'clock until 9 o'clock. Each supper ticket entitles its holder to a good supper and also one Japanese cup, saucer and napkin. Price of ticket, fifty cents.

On Tuesday the bridge crossing Sand Creek, on the Colorado Springs branch of the Denver & New Orleans, was almost entirely destroyed by fire, since which time no trains have been run into Colorado Springs. It is thought that the bridge will be repaired this morning, when trains will again run as usual.

A telegram was yesterday morning received from Hon. Matt France at Silver City, New Mexico, declining to be a candidate for the office of county commissioner. The county central committee has not as yet decided whether they shall appoint a person to fill his place or recall the county convention for that purpose.

We understand that the B. F. Crowell foot ball team has challenged the college boys to play a game on Thanksgiving day. These it will be remembered were matched in two contests last fall, in both of which the Crowells were defeated. The result will probably be the same this fall, as the college boys have about fifty men to select their team from while the Crowells are only eleven in number.

The Antlers arrivals: J S Stanger, C J Harris and wife H B Tuttle, John Creswell, J A Allen, Jr., Denver; Mrs Lauder, Colorado; H D Fisher, Manitou; A J Libby, Omaha; G P Jewett, Silverton, Colo; D D Belden, Red Cliff, Colo; E P Storne and wife, Lay Harbor, N Y; W A Gould, Lincoln, Neb; S G Coskey and wife, Mrs E C Hensdale, Detroit; W G Moore, New York; O Coller, Milwaukee, Wis; G A Myer, London; F H Sharpless, Colorado; C S Hoffman, Omaha; W W Williams, U S Navy; H G Hansen, Topeka.

Next week we are to have glorious Nat Goodwin and his wife, known to all lovers of stage fun, as "Eliza Weathersby." It will be an engagement such as ought to fill the house with crowds and with laughter. Nat Goodwin was chosen from all our American comedians as the player of comedy at the Cincinnati Dramatic Festival, where Barrett, McCullough, Mary Anderson, Rhea—in fact, the best of all actors and actresses, presented Shakspeare as he was never presented before. They appear here two nights, Friday and Saturday, November 1st and 2d. The celebrated play "Hobbies" will be presented on Friday evening. Those who have seen "Hobbies," need not be told of its inimitable frolic, and they will be glad to hear it again. Those who have not seen it should not fail to go. On Saturday evening all will have an opportunity of seeing "The Member for Slocum," a very popular play. No one who wants an enjoyable time ought to miss going to see the man who is rapidly winning the repute of being our best American comedian.

TO THE LADIES!

Mrs. Wood informs the Colorado Springs ladies that she has received a very choice and full line of Winter Millinery. Beavers in silk and fur; English braids, a full assortment; charming little society and opera bonnets; Claxton and Mother Hubbards for the children, which trim simply, yet look very stylish and unique, and are in great favor with our eastern ladies; birds and plumes, a full stock at extremely low prices; pompons in the new itorpa and thistle styles; velvets—a specialty for millinery, and a choice variety for dresses. I also have new hair goods, in natural curls only, but extremely cheap for the fine quality. Have received all the late patterns and styles in dresses and wraps, and am prepared to guarantee any lady a very stylish and well gotten up dress, warranted in good work and unequalled in prices. Hoping to receive your patronage and extend my attention,

I am respectfully yours,

k-7-1m MRS. ROSA WOOD.

Weber Street Private School.

MR. KRAUSS takes pleasure in making known to those interested in his school that he has secured the services of a NATIVE FRENCH TEACHER, who will reside in his family, and will, in addition to her duties in the school, receive a class of OUTSIDE PUPILS in French, at 11 a. m. Tuesdays and Fridays, beginning November 6th. An EVENING CLUB will meet at the house at 7:30 p. m. on Thursdays, beginning November 8th. This club is to have the character of a social gathering, in which useful instruction is combined with pleasure, the teacher having had marked success in conducting such classes in Boston.

Mr. Krauss is assisted in his school by two competent teachers from the east, one of whom gives Object Lessons to the children of the Primary Department. The method of object teaching is also used in the instruction in German, which, as well as Calisthenics, is a part of the regular course for all classes.

Drawing is included in the regular course in the Primary Department, and is an extra in the Advanced Department. A number of casts to be used as models have just been received.

The pupils are carefully classified, and thoroughness is aimed at rather than rapid advancement.

MISS G. WALLIS will take private pupils in Kensington Embroidery.

During the coming winter, Mr. Krauss will deliver a course of lectures on TEUTONIC MYTHOLOGY, to which the older pupils will be invited. These lectures will be advertised in proper time. k-24-6
